COMPOSTABLE BAGS IN CROATIA

The Mechanical Engineering and Naval Architecture University of Zagreb, the largest university in Croatia, has implemented a 3-bin collection system at 115 locations on campus for source separating compostables, recyclables and trash. EcoCortec's EcoWorks compostable bags are being used to line the organics bin. As well as shrinking the university's carbon footprint, organizers hope the program will educate students on the benefits of recycling. The EcoWorks bags will simplify the process of managing the organic waste stream. www.ecocortec.hr.
