

NEWS ALERT

NEW! Cortec® Case History Website.

Cortec® Corporation announces the launch of its new Case History website: www.corteccasehistories.com. The website is designed for a fresh user-friendly experience and easy access to the impactful comprehensive information. It is intended to be accessible and simple to navigate, placing the emphasis on making available the information and resources for our audience to learn about Cortec® products.

With over 400 case histories to-date, with this detailed catalogued showcase you will be able to find the information that you need. The case histories can be sorted by number, title, customer, application, product, city, state, country, or project date. It allows you to drill down and further sort by multiple headings to search out the exact subject matter you require.
