

NEWS ALERT

Cortec[®] passes ISO 14001:2004 Recertification Audit

December 22, 2008

Cortec[®] Corporation has been recertified to the ISO 14001:2004 Standard, proving our firm commitment to the environment! After passing the two-day audit performed by National Quality Assurance, USA Inc. (NQA), Cortec[®] was commended on having a mature environmental management system backed by a strong environmental policy.

Our success is built from management's commitment to the environment, a dedicated Environmental Management System Committee, and employee teamwork. Cortec[®] continually strives to improve our organization's impact on the environment.

Cortec[®] was one of the first ISO certified companies in Minnesota. We received our first ISO 14001:2004 (Environmental Management System) certification in 1998. Since then, Cortec[®] has continued to develop products and procedures that benefit this world we live in, providing a clean and safe environment for future generations.

From Left: Andrea Hansen (EMS Coordinator), Dan Tarble (EMS Committee Member), and Debbie Hannan (EMS Management Rep.). Not pictured: Christophe Chandler (Director of Corporate Quality and Regulatory Affairs).